

What's Going On Here?

Letter from Rhondell

We have had many requests as to what programs are under way, and what programs will be undertaken.

BOOKS - We publish and sell books by Rhondell: WHO'S IN CHARGE OF MY INNER STATE OF BEING, HEADLINES, and NOTES ON PERSONAL INTEGRATION & HEALTH, which is currently being reprinted. LIFE'S WORD also is made available.

TAPES - We have more than 250 master tapes for duplication and sale. They are not all available at this time but gradually we are building up our inventory.

TAPE OF THE WEEK SERIES - On Friday afternoon School Talks are given (everyone is welcome) which are recorded & sold on cassette tapes. The subscriber list is building rapidly.

NEWSLETTER - "What's Going On Here?" is published every other week and sent free to every name on our mailing list.

SCHOOL - Actual integrative school in progress.

TEACHING PROGRAMS TO BE DONE AS FUNDS ARE AVAILABLE - Making public in action and in print for the first time in history the inside function, make-up, and purpose of an esoteric school. Initiation in the school - how it is done and the results, such as the ability to achieve higher levels of consciousness at will. Higher levels of consciousness open the door to intuition (much larger "present"); healing and the knowledge required at the moment; being at one with higher knowledge.

BOOK ON REGENERATION in preparation.

As always WORKSHOPS are given in various cities whenever requested.

We are happy to hear from you; please send your requests for future material as well as any contribution you may wish to make to the newsletter such as original poetry, or perhaps original cartoons, etc., which are very much appreciated.

Guest Book

Paul Eckles was here, John & Sheri Hopkins have moved here this week from Texas, Rudy and Carrol Wendolin came in from the Washington, D.C. area, Charles Leithauser, Bonnie's son Mathew Morvan is here from Louisiana, Tina Vickers from Houston.

Our dear friend Bill Kinney has requested that we announce that he no longer uses his maiden name and wishes to be referred to as Bill Miller-Jones.

One who is free to be broke can enjoy money.

One who is free to be sick can enjoy health and well being.

One who is free to be lonely can enjoy a companion.

One who is free to die can enjoy living.

The basis of the "ideal" in living is based on the infant conclusion that the purpose of living is to:

GAIN

Pleasure & comfort
Attention
Approval
Importance

ESCAPE

Pain
Being ignored or rejected
Disapproval
Inferiority

which can be referred to as the four dual basic urges.

Q & A

T H E R E is a very old story to the effect that a man asked a wise man to tell him about the wise man's ideas and teaching so that he could decide whether he was a real teacher, and could give the seeker what he wanted.

The wise man asked his visitor if he would do a small favor for him, before he replied to the visitor. He agreed, and the wise man took a ring from his finger, and asked the seeker to take the ring to the stallkeepers in the flea market across the way and to get several estimates as to its value. The visitor took the ring and returned shortly with estimates of value and offers to buy from eleven to seventeen dollars. The wise man thanked the visitor and asked if he would do one more favor. The visitor agreed, and the wise man thanked the visitor and asked that he take the ring down the street to any fine jewelry store and see if he could get an offer to buy the ring. Again, the visitor re-offered to buy the ring - for $43,000!

A person who is full of conditioning thus under control of illusion, conflicts, struggles to be non-disturbed, and subject to emotions, belief, etc., is in no way qualified to know what he needs. In effect he may pass over a real gem as worthless because it doesn't appeal to his conditioning, and on the reverse he may pay a considerable sum for a cubic zirconium because it appeals to his conditioning. A school, or a teacher, to be of any value to a person, must be able to provide what the seeker NEEDS. What the seeker needs is seldom recognized by the seeker.

As long as a person lost in the forest believes he knows his way, no one can be of assistance to the lost person. When the person has lost his or her way, and CAN RECOGNIZE THE CONDITION, then much can be done which is of real value.

Each day's mail brings many letters with requests for all sorts of things believed to be what is needed for transformation. These include a new pink Corvette, a job in the theatre, a boy friend, a girl friend, more money, a trip around the world, getting rid of the present mate, and many more of the same level asking for things or situations to tickle the senses.

Now and then comes something to the effect that, "I'm confused and feel lost. I don't even KNOW what I want. Can anything be done for me?" This kind of asking gets service.

Q. Several times this week I was heard the following: I don't really see any progress in myself, despite the fact that I feel I am doing the work toward transformation. What's wrong with me?

A. What's "wrong" is not you, it is the idea of "progress" toward something "out there". The Work entails ELIMINATION of emotional conditioning. What's left is a transformed being. We work to remove obstructions - misconceptions, emotions, ideals, beliefs - we don't want to work for self-improvement. The question is based on a misconception that I am struggling TOWARD some ideal state I believe I should attain. When we remove these disintegrating factors, integration IS.

DR. BOB'S PERFECTLY BALANCED PRINCESS DINNER*

Japanese Cucumber Salad
Surprising Parsnips
Brocoli
Royal Chicken

CUCUMBERS - Slice English cucumbers paper thin & cover with rice vinegar and 2 Tbs. soy sauce

PARSNIPS - Peel them and slice very thin (2mm Cuisinart blade is perfect). Saute in butter for 10 min. or until tender; add 2 Tbs. brown sugar and a little salt. Cook about 2 minutes more to melt sugar.

BROCOLI - Trim nicely and parboil just a few minutes retaining bright green color and crispness. Drain, add butter and sprinkle liberally with Parmesan cheese.

CHICKEN - Place 6 to 8 chicken thighs in skillet; add 1 cup sherry wine, 2 Tbs. soy sauce, season salt (available from us by mail), and basil leaves. Cover skillet and cook slowly about 20 minutes or until the chicken is tender. Add 2 Tbs. corn starch dissolved in a little cold water, until thickened, about 2 more minutes.

*The dinner is balanced. Whether or not the princess is, is up to her.
